LAEM CHABANG (BANGKOK), THAILAND

Gateway to Bangkok, The Biggest City of Thailand

A voyage of flavour, and an all-out sensory assault, Bangkok is one of the world's most fascinating cities, and a place to plunge right in at the deep end. Immense tradition and relentless modernity combines, and it's these contrasts and collisions that make Bangkok the remarkable, all-encompassing experience it is. One second you can be dodging whizzing hordes of mopeds, the next, absorbed into the blissful tranquillity of a silent temple courtyard.

Ornate towers and places of worship blend in alongside cathedral-like shopping malls and skyscrapers, while the streets hum with bartering from the markets that spill out wherever you walk. Part of Bangkok's allure is that life is well and truly played out on its streets. Stalls of flowers, spices and silk fabrics fill bustling alleyways with colour and exotic fragrances. You can find fine dining hidden away here - including Michelin-starred restaurants - but the real Bangkok is the feast of flavours on street level - where authentic Pad Thai is cooked up alongside spicy papaya salad.

To truly know Bangkok you must sail the waters of the Chao Phraya river, which provides a cooling thoroughfare through the city. You'll sail through Bangkok's soul, with glorious temples leaning up against the river's banks, filled with intricately decorated Buddha statues. One of the country's most sacred sites - the Temple of the Emerald Buddha - rises in a river bend, while the beautiful Grand Palace, and the skyscraper-like tower of the colourful Wat Arun temple, also watch out over the water. It's hard to leave the intoxicating fizz of the city behind, but the journey north to Ayutthaya is an incredible voyage, where you can see the extraordinary ruins of the former capital Kingdom of Siam, which was destroyed in 1350. Lavish temples, Chinese shrines and giant Buddha statues add another layer of cultural depth.

SIGHTS

- Grand Palace
- Temple of the Emerald Buddha
- Wat Pho Temple of the Reclining Buddha
- Wat Arun (Temple of Dawn)
- Flower Market
- Chinatown
- Ayutthaya Historical Park
- Jim Thompson's House and Museum

WAT PHO TEMPLE

Wat Pho or Wat Phra Chetuphon (Temple of the Reclining Buddha), is one of the largest and oldest temples in Bangkok, named after the largest reclining Buddha measuring approximately 151 feet (about 46 metres) long and approximately 49 feet (about 15 metres) high; decorated with gold plating on his body, and mother-of-pearl on his eyes and the soles of his feet.
